Take-Away Tasks

Take-Away Tasks provide your child with optional homework opportunities, linked to this term's Context for Learning:

The Stone Age

As well as daily reading and weekly mathematics homework, your child may wish to do additional home learning from the Take-Away tasks below.

Stone Age settlement Using things around the home can you create a Stone Age house? 	Let's get Poetic! Can you write an acrostic poem using a topic word. For example: Palaeolithic Mesolithic Neanderthal Homosapien	Dear diary... Write a diary entry as a stone age person. You choose if they lived in the Paleolithic, Mesolithic or Neolithic period.
Game Play Create your own Stone Age board game. Decide: what the track will be, number of players, adventures, obstacles, rewards, quiz questions, etc. 	Calling all budding artists! Stone age man recorded his day in a series of cave paintings. Can you create a similar illustration that would help later generations understand how you lived? 	Stonehenge Make a model of Stonehenge. Display it alongside some 'Did you know…?' facts about this famous prehistoric monument.

If your child completes any of the tasks, please encourage them to bring in their learning to share with their class.

It may be used on display!
