Activity: watch the video 'Is It Happy?' about Critu and Aris the clever aliens. Press pause when Tim asks you to and answer the questions on this worksheet.

Questioning Koala (who always asks questions) starts with this question today: If someone is smiling, does that mean they are happy?

I'm responding racoon and I like quick answers.

Circle one answer:

YES or NO

I'm a reasoning rodent and I would like to know why you wrote YES or NO. Can you give a reason for your answer?

Disagreeing Dog barks: Woof woof, I disagree! But Disagreeing Dog can't think why he disagrees! Can you help him? Can you think of a reason why someone might disagree with your answer and think something different?

Someone might disagree with my answer because they think...

Questioning Koala next asks: How can you find out if someone is happy?

Let's start with the ideas of Critu and Aris. Put a tick next to the ideas you agree with, a cross next to the ideas you disagree with, or a question mark next to any ideas you are unsure about.

You can find out if someone is happy by...

- Talking to them
- Watching how they behave
- Measuring how tall they are
- Scanning their brain
- Finding out what job they do
- Looking at their face.

Now can you add any other ideas of your own?

You can find out if someone is happy by...

Questioning Koala ends by asking: So, what does make humans happy?

Example Elephant always wants an example. Can you think of something that makes all humans happy? Write your example here, and say why you think it makes all humans happy:

I'm Unsure Octopus and I'm unsure if there is something that makes all humans happy. But I don't know why I'm unsure. Can you help me?

You might be unsure if there is something that makes all humans happy because...
